GETTING THERE:

Have you ever wanted to visit another planet? Well, this is the hike for you. You will enjoy this otherworldly, family-friendly hike. You will want to bring your camera to take pictures of these alluring natural wonders of balancing rocks and hoodoos, with their unique colors and shapes. A Toadstool is a rock formation which has a boulder perched on a rock of a smaller diameter, like a mushroom, or "toadstool." This environment is the perfect condition for toadstool formations. The reward at the end of the hike is massive sandstone toadstool rock formation.

- From Kanab drive 45 miles east on HWY 89.
- The parking trailhead will be just past milepost 20 on your left.
- The trail starts behind the information sign.
- Follow the wash and the well defined trail to the hoodoos.
- Exploring the area, you will find many balancing rock and hoodoos.
- This environment is an open and shadeless desert. It is extremely hot in the summer.
- Be prepared with enough water and sunscreen.
